WORLD RECORD SET AT DAVANZATI SALB

Afternoon Session Yields 8223,745, Largest Here or Abroad.

Also more records were broken.

Among the well known persons in attendance were Joseph E. Widener, Mrs. Otto H. Kahn, Miss Frick, Mrs. Daniel G. Reld, J. K. Branch, John T. Pratt, Mrs. Jonathan Buckley, Joseph Breck, Mrs. Fred. Lewisohn and Mr. Lehman.

The net total for the afternoon was $123,745, which is the largest sum ever realized at an afternoon art sale either here or abroad. The sum total for the three days sale now is $479,695.

The prices yesterday were uniformly large and the competitions for the pieces were mainly among the great local art dealers, most of whom obtained prises. Devem Bros., however, were by far the heaviest buyers.

One Returns to Italy.

The wainut armchair which belonged to Andrea del Sarto, the great Florentine artist, which has been an object of special interest to the public, sold to James W. Elisworth for $4,000. It was beened afterward that Mr. Elisworth intends to send the chair back to Italy and will keep it in his Florentine residence, the Villa Palmieri.

the Villa Palmieri.
The chair has a horseshoe shaped sack with a seat of one piece of walnut, he four spreading legs terminating in saft ball fact. It was more than once throduced by Andrea del Sarto into its jectures, there being r drawing in sanguine in the Uffisi Gallery in Florence which shows the artist's wife seated in it. which shows the artist's wife seated in it. It was announced that four pieces of brinture that were catalogued but not shown in the galleries had been withdrawn from the sale because of the action of a group of Italian artists who protested to the Italian Government against the exportation of art objects. against the exportation of art objects of such artistic significance. These were in consequence held in Italy. The pieces in question were: No. 418, a sixteenth century walnut hanging hatrack; No. 432, an Italian State bench said to have been designed by Gian Bologna; No. 437, a fifteenth century walnut throne, and No. 447, a Sienese painted armor cabinet said to have been decerated by Il Sodoma.
